

CEMAL GÖKÇE

President of Turkish Chamber of Civil Engineers

Mr Gökçe graduated from the İstanbul State Engineering and Architecture Academy as a civil engineer.

He has been working as a freelance civil engineer since 1981. He has worked on various problems related to engineers working in public and private institutions, construction site supervision and construction site problems, discovery, progress and final settlement, construction costs and similar issues. He was a trainer for seminars and courses related to the profession.

He was the Member of the Board of Turkish Chamber of Civil Engineers İstanbul Branch for two terms and he was the President of Turkish Chamber of Civil Engineers İstanbul Branch for eleven terms. (22 years)

From 2016 he became the President of the Turkish Chamber of Civil Engineers. He is still the President of TCCE in the 46th term. Furthermore, since 2000, he is the Member of Board of Turkey Earthquake Foundation. He participated in many national and international meetings and shared his views with the participants and the public. He wrote and explained many topics related to occupation, especially earthquake disaster and construction safety.

Which are: The "Earthquake Forum" organized by the Ministry of Public Works in 2004 and the "Urbanization Committee" organized in 2009 participated on behalf of the Chamber of Civil Engineers. He participated in the Earthquake Investigation and Research Commission of the Turkish Grand National Assembly and made a presentation on "The Earthquake of Our Country and İstanbul".

He also participated in ECCE General Meetings, Balkan Engineering Forum, ICCE International Conference on Coastal Engineering 2016 in Antalya-Turkey and 2018 in Baltimore – USA. He is married and has a daughter.